

2017 Reed Sponsored Bills, the 115th Congress¹

Executive Summary

In 2017, the House of Representatives passed not one of Tom Reed's 16 sponsored bills. Further, neither of his sponsored resolutions were agreed to by the House.² This is a track record of ineffectiveness, given that Republicans controlled the House, the Senate, and the White House in 2017. In the House alone, the Republicans held a 241 to 194 majority over the Democrats at the outset of 2017. Nevertheless, none of Rep. Reed's sponsored bills even reached the "consideration and markup" phase in committee, let alone were referred out of committee for debate and a vote on the House floor.
